

HAIG'S MEN DRIVE FORWARD ON ROULERS

Decatur to Build New High School

Decatur is to have a new and modern high school building. The first step towards attaining this goal was taken this morning when Mayor James A. Nelson and the board of aldermen bought the lot at the corner of Lafayette and Oak streets, back of the Carnegie Library, on which the educational institution will be erected. The building and lot will cost about $80,000. Excavations for the new building will begin at an early date, it was announced, and it is expected that the building will be complete for the opening of the fall term next year.

Steamer Offices Raided by Sleuths

(International News Service.)

Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 10.—Department of justice officials raided the new headquarters of the North German-Lloyd Steamship Company here today and confiscated all the contents. It is believed that the order was issued from Washington in the belief that anti-American propaganda would be found. The raiders appeared armed with sledge hammers and axes and without notice or warning slashed in the main door and the work of bundling up papers for transfer and inspection began immediately.

Following this raid government officials were seen superintending excavation work of the property formerly occupied by the North German-Lloyd line. This led to reports that valuable German papers have been buried beneath the property.

Three Mass Meetings Sunday For Y. M. C. A. War Fund

These Will Be Held at Hartselle, Decatur and Albany. Speakers to Come From Birmingham

It was announced this afternoon that Capt. Frank S. White, of Birmingham, former U. S. senator, would be the speaker at the Decatur Y. M. C. A. war fund meeting Sunday afternoon; Judge Hugh L. Locke, of Birmingham, the speaker at the Albany meeting, and Judge Wm. E. Fox, of Birmingham, the speaker at the Hartselle meeting.

The meeting in Albany will be held at the Masonic theatre at 3 o'clock.

In an earnest speech, Judge L. P. Troup, after some urging to do so, accepted the chairmanship of the committee that is to raise $7,000 in Morgan county for religious work in the new national army, at an enthusiastic meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The other officers elected were: Secretary, H. R. Thompson; treasurer, A. H. Hoff.

It was unanimously agreed that as the campaign is to open Monday, Nov. 11, that three mass meetings be held Sunday afternoon—one at Hartselle, one at Albany and the third at Decatur. Judge Troup appointed Prof. Blevens, of Hartselle, and Rev. Aldridge, of Hartselle, to advise and provide the crowd for the Hartselle meeting, the speakers for which will be sent on by the headquarters' committee with offices in Birmingham. As alternate speakers for Hartselle Judge Troup and Major Bassett were appointed. It was Major Bassett who first suggested these meetings. A. A. Hardage, W. R. Hall and Major Bassett constitute the committee for the Albany meeting.

Heavy Work Only For U. S. Birdmen

Spectacular Flying to Be Done by the Allied Squadrons.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 10.—There will be little of the spectacular in the glory the American aviators will win "over there." This became evident today when it was learned that the great fleet of American air planes to be sent into the European war will not be combat machines. America will concentrate on heavy offensive work, but will do little of the spectacular air fighting which is chronicled daily.

E. S. STEEL ORDERS.

(International News Service.)
New York, Nov. 10.—The U. S. Steel corporation today reported unfilled orders on its books as of Oct. 31 last, of 9,009,675 tons, compared with 9,833,477 tons of Sept. 29, and with 10,015,160 tons on Oct. 31.

Rev. H. L. Stevenson, speaking for Decatur, offered the use of his church for the Decatur meeting, and J. H. Calvin, J. D. Wyker and T. M. Dix were appointed to see that the Decatur meeting is a success. For both Decatur and Albany, special speakers will be sent from Birmingham or Nashville. If the identity of the out-of-town speakers is learned early enough, it was directed that their names be given to the Daily for publication, but if not, every pastor will be informed before church hour Sunday morning, in time for general announcement.

Besides the speeches at these meetings addresses will be prepared and signed to be sent broadcast throughout the county. It was explained that the country people, hitherto little approached in the matter of giving to war needs, would appreciate such an opportunity as will be given.

It was pointed out that the call was to everyone, whether of no church or a member of some church, to get behind this movement, second to none in its effect on an early and victorious peace.

Billings Gives Up Fight For Liberty

(International News Service.)
San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Warren A. Billings, the first to be convicted in the preparedness day parade bomb cases that have attracted international attention, today gave up his fight and went to Folsom prison, where he is under sentence for life. Billings recently lost his appeal.

Norwegian Vessel Sent to Bottom

(International News Service.)
An American Port, Nov. 10.—With the captain and part of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Bygoness, torpedoed on its way from an Italian port under charter of the British admiralty, on board, a Norwegian ship reached here today. The captain and some of the crew of the Bygoness were prisoners on a German submarine for 24 hours.

A Proclamation By the Governor

State of Alabama,
Executive Department.

We should make provisions not only for our anticipated needs, but for unexpected emergencies. It is impossible for all to do this individually, but it is practicable for a collection of individuals to associate themselves together under a co-operative plan for mutual aid and a general welfare work. Large sums have been raised for relief work of various kinds which are to be dispensed by the American Red Cross Society. This organization has the recognition and approval of our national government.

It has been thought that branches should be organized in the different states and that each county should have a chapter in order that the whole country may partake of the benevolent influence of this splendid organization.

The first allotment of soldiers has been sent to the war zone, and others will follow, and soon the stream will be continuous, until nearly every home will have its representative at the front. There will be some in every community with loved ones in military service who will suffer much inconvenience for lack of information, who can be relieved of much distress, possibly by a word of advice from those who keep in touch with relief work, know what should and can be done. Yet, calamities may befall every section of our state and country at any moment. If we should have such an occurrence and our state is organized thoroughly and systematically, relief can be administered through the Red Cross Association.

The world has come to recognize this association, as one through which to do relief work. Its mission takes to those in distress the gift offerings of a generous people and carries with them kindness that touches the heart and kindles within us the realization that we are all akin.

With a strong conviction as to the desirability of having every section of the state to co-operate in the welfare work of forming chapters of the Red Cross association, I hereby request and call upon the citizens of each county to aid this organization in their respective localities. There will be held at Birmingham, Nov. 19 and 20, a conference of the Red Cross workers. This conference is educative in its purpose and designed to instruct those who have associated themselves with this noble work as to how services can be best rendered. I would suggest that every chapter urge some of its members to attend that all branches may receive the benefit of instructions from those who have long been engaged in this work.

In Witness Whereof, I, Charles Henderson, governor, have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Alabama to be affixed at the capitol, in the city of Montgomery, on this sixth day of November, nineteen hundred and seventeen.

Judges Selected For Coffee Name Contest

The Square Deal Coffee Company has selected F. G. Cook, A. B. Codrington and H. D. Harkreder as the judges to select the name for its new brands of coffee. More than 75 persons have submitted names, and from these the ones most appropriate and not now in use will be picked. The winner will be announced in Monday's Daily.

WETS AND DRIES UNDERWOOD HERE NECK AND NECK FOR SHORT WHILE; IN OHIO COUNT GOES TO SHEFFIELD

(International News Service.)
Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Wets and dries sped down the home stretch today in one of the greatest state-wide elections ever staged. At 9 a. m. Secretary of State Fulton's tabulations including official returns from 71 of 89 counties and allowing for errors favoring wets in Hamilton county, gave the wet forces a bare lead of 189 votes. The count at that time, using unofficial returns from 18 counties was 521,446, dries; 52,257, wets.

Potato Crop Largest In Nation's History

Four Hundred and Fifty-Three Billion Bushels, Says Harrison.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the Railroads' War Board, authorizes the following: "The railroads are now moving what promises to be the biggest potato crop in the history of the country. This crop, which is estimated will total approximately 453 billion bushels or half again as much as last year, has been on the way since the middle of September. The movement of it will continue until about April 1, next year. Reports received by the commission on car service indicate that even with intensive loading more than 750,000 cars will be needed to handle the potato crop."

America to Control World's Shipping

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 10.—America will be the center of control for the world's shipping, under plans to be presented to the allied conference to be held in Paris shortly.

ALABAMA SENATOR ONE OF SEVERAL SPEAKERS TONIGHT AT THE TRI-CITIES.

Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, junior United States senator from Alabama, was in Decatur this morning for a short while. Senator Underwood stopped over between trains and was en route to Sheffield, where a mass meeting tonight will be addressed by a number of speakers of prominence, including Senator Underwood and Congressman Hugh Dent, chairman of the military affairs committee of the House.

The meeting in the Tri-Cities is to be largely attended, and it is expected that Senator Underwood will have much to say concerning the location of the government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals. A number of Albany and Decatur business men will attend, and there will also be representatives present from many other North Alabama towns.

Mayor Nelson and representative business men of Decatur and Albany called on Senator Underwood this morning at the Lyons Hotel, and he was warmly congratulated on the location of the temporary nitrate plant at Sheffield, for which he is due much credit, as he has been one of the staunchest advocates of Tennessee river development.

Four New Electric Signs in Prospect

As a result of the recent visit of Earl B. Greenwood, electric sign artist, to the Twin Cities, four new electric signs are in prospect. One, that of the Stubblefield pool room, is for immediate installation.

Mr. Greenwood came at the invitation of the Alabama Power Co.

Lenine Declares Three Months Armistice and Will Negotiate For Separate Peace

(International News Service.)

London, Nov. 10.—In stormy weather and through muddy swamps that impeded their progress, the British troops drove forward today from a position northwest of Pass Chendaele, which was captured several days ago. The drive is believed here to be a continuance of Gen. Haig's plan to fight through the German lines to Roulers. The capture of that town is expected to finally result in driving the Germans from their submarine bases at Zeebrugge and Ostend.

(International News Service.)

London, Nov. 10.—All hope of keeping Russia from making a separate peace with Germany has not been given up. Today's dispatches from Petrograd made it clear that Premier Kerensky has not yet fallen into the hands of the Bolsheviks. It was also reported that Gen. Korniloff, leader of the revolt last September, which made its purpose the wiping out of the Bolshevik element, had escaped from the military prison, where he has been confined. If Kerensky and Korniloff effect a combination, as it is believed here they will, it is extremely likely that they will be able to swing the larger part of the army with them. Officials here declared today that the fact that Kerensky had made good his escape is the one bright spot in Russia's situation and that it may yet lead to the overthrowing of the radicals. One disturbing factor today was the report from Petrograd that Moscow had been taken over by revolutionary forces. This news was telegraphed to American Ambassador Francis at Petrograd by the American consul general in Moscow. The city was reported as quiet. Reports from Petrograd show that the Maximilists are planning to inaugurate radical reforms immediately. Their first proposal is to call an armistice of three months during which time peace negotiations can be set forth. Dispatches quote Lenine, the radical leader, as saying that peace offers will be received from either side.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Nov. 10.—All ministers of the overthrown provisional government with the exception of Premier Kerensky have been thrown into jail, according to official cablegrams reaching the state department from Ambassador Francis at Petrograd today. The messages being diplomatic were not subject to censorship by the Bolsheviks, which is in charge of the telegraph. They were the first that have come from the American envoy since Kerensky was ousted from power.

There were at the time the dispatches were filed, Nov. 7 and 8, respectively, no heads of the various governmental departments, Mr. Francis reported.

(International News Service.)

Rome, Nov. 10.—The Italian rear guard escaped the invading Austro-German forces by blowing up bridges across the Piave, according to the official statement of the war office today. The zone of activity was from Susegana to the sea.

(International News Service.)

London, Nov. 10.—The biggest battle of the war in the Italian theatre has started. The German war office reports today as received here claim that the Germans and Austro-Hungarian troops have reached the Piave river. The allied reinforcements are known to have reached the Italian battle line. It is believed here that the re-organized Italian army not only will make a stand against the invaders, but will attempt a gigantic counter attack in an effort to drive them back out of Italy.

Unofficial advices from the front said that Haig's men have the village of West Roostetke as one of their immediate objectives. This village is situated on high ground overlooking the lowlands in front of Roulers. The capture of West Roostetke would enable the British to bring their big guns closer to Roulers. Gen. Haig's report to the war office was laconic. "At dawn today we attacked northwest of Pass Chendaele. We have made good progress. The weather is stormy." Correspondent's advices from the front emphasized the great difficulties Haig's troops had to encounter in making their advance today.

WASHINGTON STILL BELIEVES IN THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Officials continue to point out that what is to be done by Russia is the all important question to be determined by the inter-allied conference to be held in Paris Nov. 15.

Reports from Russia continue discouraging, but this government continues to believe that the great Russian people will awaken to the situation and will yet save themselves. The belief is held that Germany will not (Continued on page 6.)

EVERY PROSPECTIVE VOTER SHOULD REGISTER.

The registration books in Morgan county will be opened at various times and places, as announced in the Daily this week. The men of Morgan county are required, under the provisions of the registration law enacted by the last legislature, to take advantage of this opportunity to register if they care to vote in 1918. Owing to the fact that a general impression exists that registration can be postponed, and that just before election time the books will be opened again, many men are disfranchised. They procrastinate and thus lose their right to have a voice in the selection of their officers. Morgan county voters should remember that a number of them were deprived of the right to vote last year because of a failure to correctly understand the new registration law. During the year 1918 many elections of great importance are to be held. High offices are to be filled and great issues passed upon. It is the duty of every qualified voter to register. It is important that the voters keep in mind the time when and place where the registration books will be opened in their own precincts.

Edward Doty, editor of the Tuscaloosa News for some months, is now the sole proprietor of that valuable newspaper, according to an announcement over his own signature. Mr. Doty is one of the most forceful, aggressive and capable journalists in Alabama, and is especially valuable to the profession because of the fight that he is waging, individually and as president of the State Press Association, against free advertising. He is striving to place the press of Alabama upon a business basis, to make it stand on its own feet and earn an honest dollar in a legitimate way. He is heading a fight that is intended to educate the public to the fact that newspaper space is the only commodity that the publication has for sale, that it is the meat and bread of the majority of editors and other newspaper employees. Mr. Doty has very correctly arrived at the conclusion that it is not altogether just for men in other professions to secure a competency from their labors while the members of the Fourth Estate, of equal capacity and perhaps of superior energy, plod along and work for the mere love of working. Because newspaper men do not possess that temperament that makes them place the dollar above the man is no reason why they should ignore the commercial opportunities that come their way. The Daily is free to believe that Mr. Doty will continue to stand for proper business methods in the conduct of a newspaper, and that from now on he will wield an even more potent influence in the crusade that he is waging.

Advertisers will find this paper an excellent medium in which to display their bargains and make their wants known

THEIR LIFE SIMPLE

Wandering Mongeart Arabs
Dwell in Pastoral Simplicity.

Children Attend School Only If They Wish, and Are Never Corrected—Youths May Be Considered Men at Very Early Age.

The Mongearts are a tribe of wandering Arabs which inhabit the Sahara, or Great desert of Africa. Their time is wholly occupied by tending their cattle, and because they are little skilled in the use of arms, Mongeart is a term of contempt among the people by whom they are surrounded.

The Mahometan priests are employed in traveling about the country to instruct the children. There is nothing like force in the education of a Mongeart boy. The little fellows meet in the morning, of their own accord, at the place of instruction, which is to them a place of recreation.

They go there with a small board inscribed with the Arabic characters and a few maxims of the Koran. The oldest and the best informed receive their lessons directly from the priests, and afterward communicate them to their companions.

They are never corrected, because it would be a crime to beat a child who, according to their popular notions, has not sufficient reason to distinguish good from evil.

This lenity extends even to the children of Christians, though in a state of slavery. They are treated in all respects like the children of Arabs, and the man who should be rash enough to strike one of them would endanger his life.

Very different is their treatment of negro children, who may indeed join in all the amusements of the young Arabs, and even attend the public schools, but, if they be guilty of a fault they are severely punished.

When the child of a Mongeart becomes tired of the places of public instruction, he quits them at pleasure, and without feeling constraint or hearing reproach; goes and employs himself in tending his father's flocks; and, accordingly, there are very few among them who can read. Those who persevere in the study of the Koran are made priests, after having passed an examination before the learned elders, and enjoy the greatest public consideration. They have no need of cattle, for those of the nation being theirs, they find their subsistence everywhere.

It is generally at seven or eight years of age that these children have their heads shaved, nothing being left but four locks of hair—one of which is cut off in a meeting of the family at each remarkable action performed by the child. If, at the age of twelve or thirteen, he kills a wild boar or other beast of prey that should fall upon his flock, he loses one of his locks. If, in the passage of a river, a camel be carried away by the stream and he saves it by swimming to its assistance, another is cut off. If he kills a lion, a tiger or a warlord of a hostile nation in a surprise or an attack, he is considered as a man, and his head is entirely shaved.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH AND EVERY OTHER DAY

BY OBSERVER.

"And now may the peace of God," etc. This final prayer of divine service is for God's peace, not for man's. Man cannot give peace as it is a thing he never has, absolutely.

Man's mental processes, his business relations, his trade and industry, his family relations and those of friendship and even of love are peaceless. "The course of true love never did run smooth." Friends quarrel. Sam Jones rightfully denounced as liars those who said they knew nothing of domestic discord. Labor and capital have fought since the days of Rome. Some say that the present war is one for trade. Business men wrangle. The mind triumphs only through conflict. As Miss Johnson's dramatic reading of Thursday night said in one place, "Life is but a struggle." Yes, but it is also more than a struggle. Struggles are only where we have put our food down good and hard on the road of progress. Those who struggle not arrive at the house of never. A case in point is the present world war. Liberty struggled forward in 1914, aroused by the clanking of the chains of militarism. And now for over three years Europe's mad man has tried to make her ground her foot and to allow herself to be pushed into the prison of autocracy. But Liberty's head is still proudly erect, and though it be across a bloody chasm she must, and will, step forward. Those who would stop this war this side of victory for democracy are the same people who will let the criminal liquor seller sell on rather than put the law on him; those who in the church will put up with "false brethren" rather than seek to restore them to the path of truth. They are the same kind of men in whose eyes the evil man is not condemned. They are like Horace Greeley, who, when a group of states once sought to disrupt the Union and establish human slavery,

WHAT GRAINS NEED SEED TREATMENT

By J. F. Dugger, Director Extension Service and Experiment Station.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala. No oats should be sown this fall without treatment of the seed to prevent smut. An article on the method of treatment appeared in these columns a few weeks ago. The formalin treatment is the simplest. If the directions for making it have been mislaid, write to Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn, Alabama, for a number of copies of the brief direction, and distribute them among neighbors who still have oats to sow.

It should be remembered that while the ordinary black smut of oats is easily prevented by the formalin treatment, that neither this treatment nor the bluestone treatment prevents that one of the smuts of wheat which somewhat resembles the smut of oats. That is, it does not prevent the loose or "black" smut of wheat.

If the seed wheat should contain any grains affected with the concealed (stinking) smut of wheat, which is never conspicuous, the formalin treatment, and to some extent the bluestone treatment, would constitute a means of prevention. But fortunately it seems that most of the seed wheat grown in this latitude is not troubled with this disease, the inconspicuous concealed smut. Much of our Southern wheat has the other kind ("black"), for which no treatment is generally recommended.

BUYING THE PLANTS FOR THE HOME ORCHARD.

By G. C. Starcher, Horticulturist, Alabama Experiment Station.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

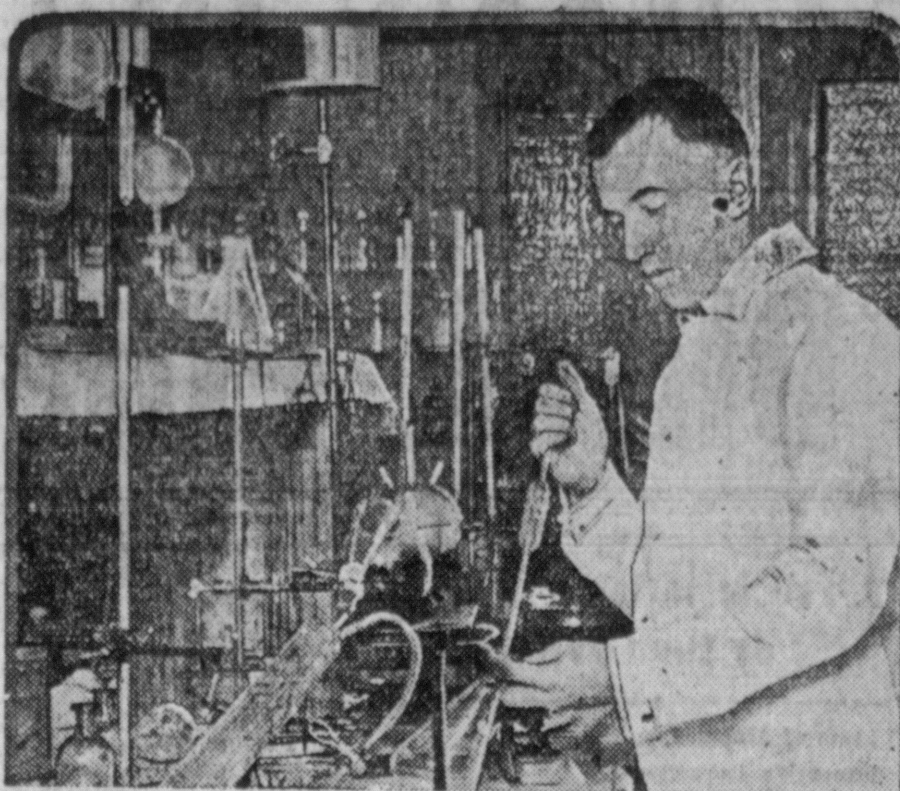

The home orchard has almost disappeared from Alabama farms. The same is true of farms almost universally, and as a result fruit has become so scarce and high priced that it is now considered a luxury rather than a necessity. Damage wrought by insects and diseases is the direct cause of this condition. Until recently it was difficult if not impossible to control these plant enemies, but now their control is a very simple matter. Simple spray materials and spraying machinery can be easily purchased and the Agricultural College will gladly give the necessary directions for their use. Therefore many new farm orchards should be planted this winter.

All of the fruits should have a season range. For the apple orchard buy such varieties as Early Harvest, Red June, Hackworth, Fanny Grimes Golden, Kinnards Choice, Stayman Wine-sap, Arkansas Black, and Yates. They are named in order of ripening. For the peach orchard select Mayflower, Greensboro Carman, Hiley-Belle, Belle of Georgia, Elberta and Salway. Plums—Red June, Wild Goose, and Shropshire Damson. Pecans—Schley, Stuart, Success and Van Deman. Pears—Le Conte and Kieffer. Grapes—Moore's Early, Diamond, Delaware, Concord, Scuppernon, and James. Strawberries—Excelsior, Lady Thompson, Aroma, and Klondike.

Purchase one year apple, pear, plum and grapes. Buy small one year peach or June huddled peach. Either one or two year pecans will do.

Those first calling cards. Every prospective bride takes especial interest in her first calling cards after the "Mrs." is added. Supply your wants by ordering early from the Daily. Many styles and prices to select from.

HAS DEVISED NEW GASOLINE PROCESS

Frederick Kornath, San Francisco, whose new process of refining gasoline has been recognized by the federal government. The process means the perfection of a method of making a larger volume of efficient motor spirits, which may be used in every way that gasoline is used. A barrel of crude oil of 42 gallons, 52 per cent of gasoline will be extracted, thus utilizing a great quantity of waste.

ALSATIAN GIRLS FLEE TO UNITED STATES

Misses Lydia and Janet Blumenthal, daughters of Daniel Blumenthal, who was mayor of Colmar at the beginning of the war, until the Germans advanced and deposed him. The two girls fled secretly from their home in Colmar to France to save their lives as the Germans advanced into the town, and arrived recently in this country. Daniel Blumenthal arrived here six months ago. He is well known as a leader in Alsace and as president of the World League for the Restitution of Alsace-Lorraine.

Thoughts Mold Character.

Learn to think carefully and deeds in kind will soon follow. Remember what you think enters into the molding of your character. Men who permit the mind to dwell on the sensual soon find themselves on the way to ruin. Men with high ideals and determinations move steadily upward. Somehow the world just makes way for them. In this busy old world you just must keep going. What the mind dwells on must will determine the direction and speed at which you go. You must think in terms of vision. See the great and aim to realize it. Even if the thing is beyond your present reach, the fact that you try fits you for the good you are bound to come to later if you keep trying. You must think well of yourself also. That's part of the program. Unless you can respect yourself as a workman you will have trouble commanding the respect of others. Be particular about your thinking.—Exchange.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today.

Benevolent Hospital

News notes prepared by Superin-
dent Hubbard and published each Saturday at the request of the Board of Managers.

The following conversation took place at the head nurse's desk yesterday, and is a specimen of frequent occurrences:

"Miss Hill, I have a patient who will die if he doesn't have treatment, and I must have a nurse to help in an operation at his home. He is a small boy and his father unable to pay anything."

"Doctor, if I can't spare a nurse I'll go myself."

Friends of the hospital, what would you do under such circumstances? We have $1,400 worth of such accounts.
What about the doctors who are doing this and making no noise about it? They all do it.

Relatives and friends of patients who telephone for information will always get reliable answers. When you call, give your name and state your wants. Often your questions can be answered without calling the nurse
who may be very busy at that particular time.

Miss Ellen Royer returned to her home on Moulton pike today.

Mrs. Ziff will be at home, to her friends in a day or two.

John Bryant, of Burnsville, Miss., is in the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Mary Devine is surprising her friends by rapid recovery after a severe operation.

P. A. Gandy, of Falkville, is feeling comfortable, but still has low fever.

Two little girls, Mary Jervis and Louise Almon, sold enough soap, silver polish and furniture polish to buy a dozen new cups and saucers for the patients' tray. Their efforts are very much appreciated.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt gratitude to our friends and neighbors
for their kindness and sympathy extended at our recent bereavement by the death of our daughter, Mrs. Edna Pfaff, also many thanks for the floral offerings.

MR. and MRS. A. G. BAYNE.

FOREST OF BURNISHED STEEL

Row upon row of burnished steel bayonets flashed in the sun when these British troops marched to the place where the great British field service to mark the commencement of the fourth year of war was held.

Huntsville Heavies Make Light Score

The fact that Albany High school has won the best football teams in its history was clearly shown Friday when it held the heavy Huntsville High machine to two touchdowns. The Albany boys fought splendidly and several times came within a few yards of Huntsville's goal. A good part of the game was fought on Huntsville's side of the field and had the Albany boys been outweighed six or seven pounds to the man instead of fifteen the result of the game would have been different and in Albany's favor.
Albany outplayed its opponents, but the Huntsville weight was too much to be overcome.

Huntsville's first score came in the second quarter. When the ball was on Huntsville's 20-yard line the Huntsville quarter back on a fake got through the Albany line and ran 80 yards for a touchdown. Huntsville kicked goal, making the score 7 to 0. The Albany machine came in the second quarter. After this the Albany goal line was in little danger. The Thomas machine settled down and for the last half the spectators were treated to classic football. Several times during the third quarter it seemed that Albany would score. Albany's forward passing was the feature of the game.

Coach Thomas is very much pleased with the showing his team made in yesterday's game. He deserves great praise for the way in which his machine is working. Since the first game with Huntsville in which

Cox Farm Bought By Dr. F. P. Pettey

Dr. Frank P. Pettey has purchased the Cox farm of 210 acres near Antloch, the sale being made through Thornhill, the well-known real estate dealer. The price paid was much higher than that paid two years ago
when the property was bought by Mr.
Cox, indicating again the rapid rise in the value of Morgan county farm lands. Dr. Pettey, who is now in the medical corps of the U. S. army, though as yet unassigned, bought the farm as an investment.

Mr. Cox purchased the farm of 210 acres Sept. 6, 1915, paying $3,500,
and after clearing some land and improving the place, sold it for $6,300 cash. On 125 acres of land Mr. Cox in 1915 raised 22 bales of cotton, receiving $2,480 for it; sold $400 worth of fruit; cribbed 750 bushels of corn, and an abundance of hay and vegetables. This year he will produce 1,500 bushels of corn, 20
bales of cotton, plenty of hay, 500 gallons of molasses, and sold about $400 worth of fruit.

Uncle's Advice.

His Niece—Uncle, we are getting up an amateur theatrical society. Can't you suggest an appropriate name for it?

Her Uncle—Sure thing. What's the matter with "Think twice before you act?"

HIS CHANCE

Ethel—Tom won a hat betting with papa, and papa told him he could have Grace if he'd call it square.

Edward—Is—is your father home tonight?

His Colors.

When the audience baited the speaker
He quite patriotic grew.
His face got red, and then turned white—
And the atmosphere was blue.

Paw Always Knows.

Little Lemuel—Say, paw, what is ostentation?
Paw—According to your mother, son,
it's the way the neighbors show off.

Confidential.

He—Are your affections really and truly engaged?
She—Oh, not necessarily. But I am.

SOLDIERS' CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Another success, following closely upon recent others of the Red Cross works is the $105.00 Christmas gift fund for our soldiers now in France.
It is to Mrs. J. H. Donnell greatest credit is due for this work, as by her personal efforts the whole amount is now assured. Mrs. Donnell requests that all amounts due be paid to her by Nov. 15, so as to give time for getting the presents to France by Christmas.

The following is a partial list of the donors: Mrs. Tom Bowles, Mrs. R.

BRIDGE COMPLIMENT TO MISS VIRGINIA PHILLIPS.

The pretty social event of the week
was the bridge party given in compliment to Miss Virginia Phillips by Mrs. Sam Thompson Friday afternoon. Those playing were: Mesdames O. Kyle, E. Calvin, E. W. Godbey, W.
R. Hall, W. A. Curry, Alex. Humphrey, Jno. C. Sheets, J. L. Gunter, L. C.
Mays, T. H. Alexander, W. H. Greer,
Miss Phillips, Mrs. Earl Calvin.
Miss Phillips made top score and was presented a deck of cards. To the honoree was given embroidered handkerchiefs as a souvenir. Later a delicious salad course was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. C. V. Dupont, Mrs.
W. R. Hall and Mrs. Charles Rountree. The effective decorations were carried in specimen pink chrysanthemums. Miss Phillips is the popular guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. V. Dupont, and is being entertained by Mrs. Alex.
Humphrey.

SWANSON-KUHN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kuhn announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna Elizabeth, to Mr. Carl Edward Swanson, the marriage to be solemnized at St. Anne's Catholic church, Wednesday morning, November 28, at 9 o'clock.

Quite a number of young people of Huntsville accompanied the fast football team over on Friday. They were Annie Daniels, Ruth Suggs, Ruth
Powell, Jerome Collier, Dorothy Bell,
Elizabeth and Fanny Lacy Davis,
Sarah Webster. They were chaperoned by Mesdames Robert Searcy and Paul Davis. Miss Frances Todd entertained them with the Albany high school boys and girls delightfully last evening. So you see, "Mr. Professor" was not hard hearted after all.
Mrs. Todd chaperoned the whole party to the Colonial club where they dined till train time.

Mrs. R. J. Downing, of Nome, Alaska, will soon arrive to spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Rhode Rogron.

Miss Ruth Chrissinger is convalescent after suffering an attack of tonsillitis.

Miss Jewell Spear is at Florence,
the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T.
Whitley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Branum have returned from Birmingham and Montgomery, where they visited relatives.

Mrs. J. T. Clark and children leave soon for Jackson, Miss., after visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Hunter McDonald, of Nashville, was the guest of Mrs. R. E.
Sanders on Friday.

PROGRESSIVE CULTURE CLUB.

Mrs. B. Crawford, president.
Mrs. W. R. Shelton, secretary.
Mrs. J. H. Calvin, hostess.
On Tuesday, Nov. 13, the Progressive Culture club will meet with Mrs.
J. H. Calvin, when Dr. Geo. Eaves, of Birmingham, will address the club.
Miss Roberta Hicks will delight everyone with a vocal selection. An invitation is extended to all members of Federated Clubs.

BEREAN CLUB.

Mrs. W. A. Curry, president.

WHY CHILDREN TELL FIBS

Imagination Is Stronger Than the Intellect and Fiction Is as Real to Them as Fact.

Why do children lie? Edwin S. Puller in the Mothers' Magazine answers
the question by saying that the imagination of a child is stronger than his intellect, that fiction is as real to a child as fact.

"The cure for lies inspired by imagination," he asserted, "is the education of the child's intellect to distinguish between fact and fancy. As his error is mental, not normal, his cure must be mental. It would be a grave error of training to attempt to suppress his imagination as a cure for his untruths.
Imagination is the mainspring which moves his mentality to growth, hence it should be directed into rational channels and not curbed."

"Only parents who cannot distinguish between an imaginative untruth and a real lie punish such infants or scold them for being wicked. The child does not recognize any immoral quality in his untruth because there is none. Therefore he does not see the justice of the censure or the whipping which he has received as punishment.
But he would recognize as helpful his mother's patient effort to untangle his imagination which is so helplessly com-mingled with facts."

"About the age of seven or eight, the child's mental fog begins to clear and his mentality develops to the point where it begins to dominate his imagination. The unreal becomes more sharply defined and fancy slowly dis-engages itself from fact. When such mental development is reached, the misstatements inspired by imagination
will cease."

"The factor for the prevention and cure of lying in older children is the good example of parents. Moral suasion is apt to lose its effectiveness when the mother sends her daughter to the door to tell the caller that mother is not in.
The parent should be 'on honor' in the matter of truthfulness, as well as the child. Children are great imitators.
Hold up an example of scrupulous adherence to truth and your part will have been nobly done."

WITHIN MINE FIELD

British Seaplane Observer Tells
of Day of Terror.

Forced by "Dead" Engine to Descend,
He and His Pilot Ward Off Deadly Floating Machines With Their Bare Hands.

A British seaplane observer describes an adventure that befell him,
during a flight over the North sea.
Suddenly, when the plane had traveled through fog and haze to a height of 2,500 feet above the water, the engine stopped dead. The observer and his pilot were compelled to descend quickly, and when their plane struck the water they had no idea where they were. Through calculations they finally decided that they must be at least 50 miles from the shores of England.
What was worse, it was gradually borne in upon them that they were perilously near, if not actually in, an extensive mine field.

They could not signal, for their wireless apparatus was out of commission.
The heat was terrible and the sea was dead calm. At least a dozen times as the day wore on the men heard the roar of engines, but the sound always receded into the distance again, and there seemed to be no hope of rescue.
Finally the wind rose and shifted the haze a little, and high up in the northwest they saw dropping toward them a birdlike machine. Nearer and nearer it came, and presently it dropped on the water beside them. It was a British seaplane from their own base.
The pilot of the rescue machine stepped within 20 yards of them, and his observer heaved overboard a huge vacuum flask. Then, without stopping the engine, they dived along the surface and tilted into the air again.
When the men turned to the flask they found that it had floated out of reach into the midst of a school of jellyfish.

Then the long, hungry, impatient wait began again. The hours seemed to drag more heavily than before. As the tide went down dark spheroidal objects began to bob up by twos, by threes, by fives. Through their glasses
the men could see scores more of them in the distance. They were deadly contact mines! The nearest pair were only half a cable's length away, and the seaplane was drifting toward them on the ebbing tide.

During the next four hours the death traps gave the men a terribly anxious time, for there were hundreds of them, and it was impossible as the plane drifted along to avoid them.
Once or twice they actually had to ward off the mines with their bare hands to keep them from knocking against the machine.

Shortly after six o'clock in the evening the men—burned almost black by the sun, with parched throats and swollen tongues—heard the sound of a propeller chugging away at no very great distance. The seaplane grew louder, and at intervals the observer fired three pistol shots. Then out of the haze plowed a trim little motor launch. She crept alongside, lowered her dinghy and took the men off. Then she made fast a line to the seaplane and took it in tow. It was long after midnight when the launch reached the English shore.—Wide World Magazine.

Fencing a Continent.

Since 1891 the state of South Australia has erected 29,148 miles of vermin fences, enough to encircle the world and with the remnant build a double line of fence along the southern border of the United States. New South Wales has spent more than $27-000,000 for rabbit extermination and has within its borders 98,000 miles of fence. Of late years, says the National Geographic Magazine, the rabbit has been paying his board. He goes to swell the total of food exports from the commonwealth. Along the country roads rabbits may be seen hung on the fences awaiting the rabbit carts that convey them to the packing houses, to be prepared for shipment as frozen meat and hides.
During 1913 Australia exported frozen rabbit and hare to the value of $1-400,000 and skins to the value of $3-000,000.—Youth's Companion.

To Reform Russian Calendar.

Bringing up to date of the Russian calendar will be one of the earliest reforms of the new government in Russia, although opposition is expected from the ecclesiastical quarters.
Any alteration of the calendar has always been regarded as an act of impiety by a large section of the Russian people. When the Gregorian calendar was introduced in 1582 as a correction of the Julian or Roman, three countries in Europe—Russia, Sweden and England—refused to come into line with the others. It was not until 1752 that England brought the calendar up to date. Sweden followed the next year, but Russia has persisted in remaining isolated up to the present.
The Julian calendar was 11 minutes 10 seconds out of reckoning each year, and the accumulation would now
amount to about 13 days.—Chicago Post.

"Are the Jipsons still making plans for the summer?"
"Oh, yes."
"If they don't hurry summer will be

"That won't discourage the Jipsons.
They will immediately begin making plans for next summer."—Birmingham

AIR FIGHTER FOR FRANCE

Lieut. E. Reno, attached to the French aviation division, is credited

SPECIAL FACILITIES FOR HANDLING GERMAN SPIES

(International News Service.)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Spread of the German spy system of the United States has brought about new agitation in official quarters for the creation of a central secret service to include present federal intelligence agencies under one general head.
Plans are under consideration for the combining of the various branches in order to make more effective the secret
work of apprehending German spies
and suppressing pro-German propaganda.

Read Up, Bill.
"How did Bill happen to be arrested?"
"Left his car in the street all night without complying with the biblical injunction."
"Didn't know the Bible made any thing on the subject?"
"Oh, yes. It says, 'Let your light shine!'"

Expressions of Genius.
"Modern genius expresses itself in mechanical inventions, such as the submarine," said the philosopher.
"Yes," replied the statesman. "Sometimes I wonder whether it wouldn't be better to encourage the kind of genius that's satisfied to sing or play the piano and doesn't figure on actually killing anybody."

Christmas Goods Will Soon Be On Display In ALBANY

ALBANY merchants, fully aware of the fact that the people of North Alabama are looking to them to supply their wants for the Christmas holidays, have arranged to have the largest stocks of holiday goods in the history of the city.

This is going to be an old-fashioned celebration of Christmas in Alabama in spite of the war for the government has fostered the spirit of "business as usual." Business, indeed, is better than usual.

North Alabama has a bumper crop of cotton, corn and other farm staples and the harvest moon this autumn is fuller than ever before. North Alabamians are prosperous and Albany merchants, anticipating the wants of North Alabama, are prepared to serve them as well as they can be served in Memphis, Nashville, Birmingham or even the mail order houses of Chicago or New York.

American Liner Was Attacked by U-Boat

(International News Service.)
An Atlantic Port, Nov. 10.—An American liner arriving here today fought off an attack of a German submarine somewhere off the Irish coast, according to the passengers. One shot was fired from a gun on the steamer. Some of the passengers declared that they had seen a periscope, but this was not verified by officials.

New York's Mental Defectives.
There are 30,000 mental defectives in New York state and it will take $12,500,000 adequately to provide for them, says the state board of charities in its 44th annual report. But 6,749 of these defectives are in asylums or other institutions and of this number the state has accommodations for 5,000 but more than 1,000 more are crowded into the shelter of the wards.

The board says it is getting appeals every day from orphan asylums, school authorities, poor law officials and courts begging for proper places in which to keep feeble-minded children who need custodial care.

The sum of $2,000,000 is asked for the completion of the Letchworth village colony, near New York city, to increase the capacity from 300 inmates to 3,000 inmates.

The annual appropriation of $2,500,000 is urged until the state has built up its asylum capacity. The board in nine months of the last fiscal year received $2,530,333 for state institutions with 11,392 inmates, and expended $2,403,141, of which $742,349 was for buildings and improvements. The private institutions under public supervision, with 3,298 inmates, got from public sources $693,362, from private sources $434,998 and spent $1,123,457.

The Jewell Jubilee Girls, a company of twelve clever people, will come to the Masonic theatre Monday for a week's engagement, giving the usual two performances each night, with a complete change of program every night. This company is considered one of the best small company's on tour. The company has special scenery and electrical effects. Its own musical director, and good comedians. Feature vaudeville act and a chorus of pretty girls.

ETHEL CLAYTON IN "THE WOMAN BENEATH"

The attraction at the Deltic and Star theatres on Monday will be "The Woman Beneath," the newest World-Picture Brady-Made in which Ethel Clayton, the popular beauty, is the star. This entrancing story of an odd phase of domestic life, was penned by Willard Mack, who has written some of the most gripping successes filmed by World-Pictures. This newest product of Mr. Mack's pen gives Miss Clayton one of the very best roles she has ever had. She appears as the New York society wife of a wealthy western mine owner who has married him for his money. When she tells her husband this he decides to make her leave him and he determines that the best way to do this is by making it appear that he has lost all his money. But when his scheme is successful, it works a most remarkable change in his wife—a change so very astonishing that the husband cannot believe it. "The Woman Beneath" is an astonishing play and a thoroughly delightful attraction. To see it is to see a real treat.

White Corners to Stop Spitting.
Employees in a certain Boston factory who had acquired the insular habit of spitting in the corners of the room were cured of the practice when the floor and walls adjacent to the corners were painted white. This simple expedient also served as an inducement to the janitor to be particularly careful when sweeping and mopping the corners.

Skating in the Trenches.
Parcels from home had just come to two chums in the trenches, and they began to open them with the joy of expectation. Sandy soon had the wrappers off his parcel, and turning immediately to his chum, exclaimed: "God bless the old woman; she is thoughtful. I told 'er there was ice in the trenches last time I wrote, and I'm blessed if she hasn't sent me a pair of skates."

G. B. BLACKWELL IS CALLED HOME

Prominent Farmer and Dairyman
Died This Morning. Funeral Services Sunday.

Gus B. Blackwell, prominent farmer and dairyman, died this morning at his home on the Somerville road, following an extended illness. Death was due to Pellegria, from which Mr. Blackwell had been a sufferer for some months.

For many years Mr. Blackwell had conducted a dairy farm, his customers being for the most part residents of Albany. He was noted for square dealing, uprightness of character and rugged honesty, and will be mourned by many friends.

In addition to his wife, the deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. Ed Warren, of Birmingham, and Guy and Julian Blackwell. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by Rev. J. C. Persinger, pastor of the Central Methodist church. Interment will follow at City cemetery.

The following friends will act as pallbearers: Tom Gunn, Judge L. P. Troup, C. F. Lile, William Owen, J. J. Gooch and Henry Binford.

Diaz Now Leads The Italian Armies

He is in position to withdraw any appreciable number of her forces from the eastern battle front. This belief is based on the fact that while the Maximilian movement appears spreading throughout the empire there is still left a very large conservative element that places no trust in Germany and would not be willing to treat for a separate peace and would continue its war against Prussianism.

That the radical movement is spreading throughout all Russia, was indicated by a series of dispatches reaching diplomatic circles here today. However, it was emphasized in quarters close to the allied powers that this does not mean an immediate German-made peace. On the contrary it probably means that the Russian radicals will probably appeal to the inter-allied war council which meets next week to consider Russia's position and try to bring about an immediate peace on a no annexations, no indemnities basis. This will not be acceptable to any of the entente nations. This again was made very plain here today. Administration officials continued to insist that the war must go on.

DIAZ TO LEAD ITALIAN ARMIES INTO BATTLE.

(International News Service.)
Rome, Nov. 10.—The Italian forces having carried out a systematic retreat from the Isonzo front are in battle formation today on the west bank of the well fortified Piave river. With them are Franco-British troops, who, with added stores of supplies, munitions and heavy guns, are ready to participate in an engagement of no less importance than the battle of the Marne. Rapidly approaching this battle line of less than 30 miles width are the combined German, Bulgaro-Austro-Turko forces, struggling with two opposing elements, a blinding snow storm and the menacing Italian rear guard and air fleet.

The creation of a permanent allied military committee with true leadership for the Italian forces has worked wonders in the restoration of confidence among Rome military authorities. There is no under-estimating the strength of the enemy, but merely a strengthening of confidence in the ability of the new military committee to successfully cope with the situation.

Meanwhile Gen. Cadorna, who has commanded the Italian forces since the beginning of war, will be supplanted by Gen. Diaz.
